

Environmental Commercial Auto Liability

In their effort to meet environmental compliance and regulatory requirements, companies everywhere are facing a whole new level of risk. That is why Starr Companies has developed a broad range of flexible and comprehensive liability products for companies like environmental contracting, consulting and waste management facilities. Our experts work with you to address limits of liability that most effectively address your particular risk.

As multinational trade expands and customers demand lightning-fast logistics, commercial transportation has become more vital than ever to today's economy. Growth, however, also means greater risks, Starr Companies Auto Liability coverage offers your business managed exposure to risks associated with the transportation industry.

Our in-depth knowledge and experience means we can design customized programs to minimize exposures and losses as well as duplications and gaps in your company's coverage.
